DON'T LET A SERIOUS ILLNESS UPSET YOUR SAVINGS

Learn why Critical Illness Insurance is important and how to enroll.

Are you financially prepared to face a serious illness? Even with a great medical plan, you'd possibly face unexpected deductibles, co-pays, and lost wages. Critical illness insurance can help by providing a financial cushion in addition to what your other insurance might cover.

How it works

You can choose coverage for yourself. When you enroll, you're guaranteed coverage, regardless of your health.

If you are diagnosed with a covered condition, you'll receive a lump-sum payment that you can use however you choose[1]— like to help pay for medical costs not covered by traditional insurance or for non-medical costs like transportation, groceries, and food delivery services.

Covered conditions

Critical Illness Insurance, issued by The Prudential Insurance Company of America (Prudential), pays you for a variety of medical conditions including, but not limited to:

- Alzheimer's disease
- Cancer (invasive or in situ)
- Coma
- Coronary artery bypass graft
- Heart attack
- Major organ failure
- Muscular dystrophy
- Stroke
